VI. Discussion and Decisions Regarding FY2021 Budget

Ms. Fortado spoke about the recommendations from the County Executive and what the order of the body was going to be at this meeting. Ms. Kloeppel and Ms. Ogden stated they need specific direction on how to proceed with the budget to get it placed on file.

Mr. Stohr asked for elaboration about the cannabis sales funds. Ms. Kloepfel explained there currently is not an allocation for those funds but explained her recommendation to use them for a justice system diversion initiative. Ms. Ogden explained the current budget reflects a surplus of $12,000 and any changes the Board wishes to make will reflect a revenue to expenditure deficit in 2021 but a surplus is expected in 2020.

Ms. Michaels raised concerns about needing more budget cuts in 2021 due to not receiving a state reimbursement from COVID that helped with expenses in 2020. Ms. Kloepfel explained that future cuts may need to be made in 2022 if revenues are not as expected in 2021.

Discussion continued regarding the outstanding items the County Executive listed in her budget memo. Ms. Fortado expressed that she was in favor of taking $22,000 from the Public Safety Sales Tax fund to maintain the Youth Assessment Center at its current level of funding. There wasn't any objection to the change.

Chair Goss brought forward the next item, transferring $75,000 from the County Board's personnel line to use it for continued ERP project management. Several members expressed their desire to update the antiquated system updated for the ease of staff members. Mr. Tinsley recommended that $25,000 be taken from the remaining $55,000 to pilot the justice system diversion initiatives. Mr. Stohr mentioned he would like to see a social worker working in conjunction with the Sheriff's Office. Ms. Michaels stated that it would be better to focus on the software first and then revisit this idea. A couple members spoke against this idea.

Mr. Patterson brought forward the idea to invest cannabis funds into services, specifically justice system diversion initiatives, instead of the funds in the County Board's personnel line. After speaking with the Sheriff and RPC they identified two programs that would be affordable; a social worker to accompany the Sheriff's Office on crisis/domestic calls and moral reconnection therapy to be provided at the Youth Assessment Center. Sheriff Heurman and Ms. Benson were invited to join the conversation. Ms. Benson gave a quick overview of the proposal. Sheriff Heurman discussed how this would be implemented and helpful within the county. Ms. Dillard-Myers stated that we would need more money than we have available to fully address this problem. Ms. Fortado said the County cannot solve all problems but could address them. She also explained how the Democratic Caucus has discussed putting some of the cannabis revenue towards social justice programs. Chair Goss suggested also asking the Mental Health Board for assistance to fund these initiatives.

After a straw poll of 8-12, it was determined that they would not recommend taking $25,000 from the County Board personnel line to be used for the Justice Initiative. Ms. Ogden asked if they would like to keep the entire $55,000 in a personnel line or move it to another line. Ms. Fortado suggested moving $30,000 from the personnel line to the services line and keeping $25,000 in the personnel line. None of the Board members had any objections to this proposal.

Ms. Fortado recommended using $125,000 of the cannabis revenues to fund the two justice initiatives that have been discussed. After a unanimous straw poll, the Board is recommending this proposal.

Chair Goss moved on to the last outstanding item, using the $400,000 gift from the Richmond Trust to restore most of the capital funding for facilities projects. The Board members did not bring forward any objections to this proposal. Ms. Ogden and Ms. Kloepfel were satisfied with the direction that was given.
