V. Public Input

Bart Basi stated he believes in America. He spoke about how his grandparents came to this Country to free themselves from a dictatorship and their successes here in America. He joined the Navy where he learned many things including that this Country is not about individuals, it's not about political parties, nor a single ideology. He worked with a group in Iraq that helped the Kurds free themselves from their oppression they faced. They came to see the American Flag as a symbol of freedom.

Susan McGrath mentioned the AFSCME bonuses that were recently paid through each department's personnel lines. Since she has 29 AFSCME members, her budget took a large hit. Her personnel budget will be overdrawn before the end of the year. She asked that they transfer enough funds to her personnel line in order to pay the employees through the end of the year. She wished that someone had reached out to each Department Head before the funds were paid out to the AFSCME members. She also mentioned that the fall veto session included passage of the Clean Slate Act, that mandates additional requirements for her office, and thanked the Board for adding two additional positions to her office.
